Telegrams.

(By Havas Agency)

London, Jan. 31st—Telegrams have been received announcing the death of Emir Abdurrhamann of Affghanistan. No confirmation of the news has yet been received.

Paris, Jan. 31st—Government was today interpellated in the Deputies with regard to the suppression of the performance of Sardou's play 'Thermidor; Minister Constans gave his reasons and then an order of the day accepted by him was carried by 315 to 182. The incident may be, therefore, considered as terminated.

Berlin, Jan. 31st—The official journals state that the retirement of General Von Waldersee, Commander in Chief, is probable.

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 31st—The ceremony of transferring the remains of General Paunero to the Almirante Brown was performed this morning. A cavalry regiment with mourning banners was in attendance. Several Ministers and the Corps Diplomatique and a large crowd followed the hearse. The Almirante Brown left this evening.

Montevideo, 31 —The Admiral Brown left Rio to-night.

President Herrera has consented to preside over the Committee named to do honor to the remains of General Paunero.

The Saturno left this evening for Buenos Ayres.

THE NEW ERA.

The so-called financial plan of the Government came into force yesterday, and a stage of trial and patience begins for the public. The financial bills are now law of the land and all must abide by the consequences. The Minister of Finance is convinced that his plan will save the country: we think it will entail its ruin—merely a difference of opinion: and Time, the venerable regulator of human affairs, will tell who is right or wrong, if that matter much when the evil is done or the desired object has been achieved. We believe, and public opinion supports us, that the financial policy of the National Executive is the most baneful and prejudicial system of taxation ever attempted in this fair land We believe that the Executive has over stepped the limits of equity and moderation, and that the majority of the fresh or increased taxes will lead to a considerable shrinkage in business all over the country and necessarily to a very heavy falling-off in the revenue. There is a certain grandeur in the infatuation, not to say the mental aberration, in the extraordinary tenacity of purpose and stolid conviction of the framer of this new and extraordinary financial policy that calls for special comment. No ordinary ability could have ever pushed through the financial bills in the teeth of the formidable opposition of the whole country: the cause of taxation has triumphed owing to the iron energy and incredible efforts of the Finance Minister. Dr. Lopez has carried the day: he believes he is right, that everybody else is wrong—a certain positivism, arising not from any conceit, but from a habit of being in the right when others are in the wrong. But in this instance the grand old man, we think, is very much in the wrong.

It may happen, for strange things will happen in this prosaic world, that these bills will enforce a rigid economy on the mass of consumers and a necessity of straining to the uttermost every source of production; it may happen that such enforced economy on our hunger and thirst will help to right the finances of the country; it may happen that all notions of equity and of finance are out of joint and out of place in this exceptional country, and that Dr. Lopez's new plan will save the finances of the Republic. All this is a very remote possibility in which an extraordinary conjunction of favourable circumstances might lead one to suppose that a favourable action arose from the ministerial policy; but, viewed in the light of the experience that the minister is proud of, of political economy, of equity, the whole plan of the Government must be considered an abortive attempt to increase revenue, not a policy to root out the causes of the crisis that is dragging down the nation from a financial or monetary cataclysm into an economic crash, and from the latter into political and social chaos. In all the Bills of the Government we can see but one object—increase of the revenue to make both ends meet in the National Budget; and since this policy has no connection whatever with any plan to cure the crisis, let us devote a few lines to its only plausible excuse—its effect on the national revenue.

From to-day all Custom-house duties are payable in gold or in the equivalent of that gold in paper-money. This means an enormous increase in the duties on all imported goods, when we say 50 o|o we are much under the mark. We need not add that such an enormous increase of duty will bear negative results; the people are already very much impoverished, their savings have shrunk 75 o|o, their earnings at least 50 o|o; their cost of living has increased, and the result of such a crisis we see in the stationary condition of deposits in those banks where earnings accumulate, in the falling-off in immigration, and the great increase in emigration. The deposits which once figured in the Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres at 20 millions sterling now do not amount to eight millions; the steamers which landed in previous years as many men as their registered tonnage now arrive empty, whilst those vessels which leave our shores take away thousands of disappointed pioneers and their families; the streets of this city are deserted and every tenth house or shop is to let. Under such circumstances any increase in the duties is absurd, if we except luxuries. The result will be fatally at least 50 o|o falling-off in the consumption of the country, and no increase whatever in the revenue of the Government in this respect.

From to-day all pastoral products exported from this country must pay a duty of 4 o|o. This duty necessarily falls on the producer, not on the foreign buyer. It is argued that the only people who are not affected by the crisis are the cattle and sheepfarmers. We shall only state that cattle which were sold in 1882 at 12$ gold per head are now selling at 6 to 7 dols. paper at 65 per cent discount; that sheep fetch to-day in paper only the prices they were quoted at in gold not many years ago; that the land-tax has increased several hundred per cent in the last three years, and, finally, that the sheepfarmers and cattle-lords and others have now to suffer the consequences of the increase in the duties on imports and besides of 4 o|o duty on their wools, hides, etc. This is a queer way of fostering production; but the Minister of Finance may feel sure that he will get every dollar of his 4 o|o export duty, for the payment is inevitable, as wools, hides, etc. must be shipped to Europe. Exporters and importers, that is to say producers and consumers, will not bless the Government—the consumer must face 50 o|o increase, but the producer must countenance 54 o|o at least; this is the relative position of both, in so far that the producer is worse off than the more consumer.

From to-day we are asked to pay above and beyond the wholesale increase in import duties, additional duties on certain articles, excise on beer, spirits, matches—fresh taxation everywhere. Foreign capital, in banks, trust companies, insurance companies, etc., is burdened at the rate of 10 o|o and 7 o|o on their profits, is taxed with fresh increase in licenses, is forced to deposit large amounts of money in guarantee—what not? Add to this: the 2 o|o tax on all deposits of private banks; in other words, an enormous contribution on the earnings of the people, and we have some idea of the new era on which we enter to-day. It needs no Cassand a to tell the country in prophetic voice that we are on the wrong track; instead of liquidating State banks, closing the doors of mortgage bond factories, burning paper-money, reducing the personnel of Government, cutting down provincial as well as national expenditure, relieving the pressure of the crisis on the masses, the Government stoops to the miserable plan of wringing money out of the population, and sharing the profits of the foreign capital invested in this country. This is the new era—these are the factors of the Minister to grapple with the crisis. Verily some people are blind.

THE CHILIAN REVOLUTION.

INTERESTING DETAILS.

As was expected the Almirante Condell has weighed anchor and left Montevideo. It is quite evident the commander is bent on joining the revolutionary fleet. In regard to the march of events in Chile, our readers will find the latest particulars in the appended telegrams:—

Inca's Bridge, Jan. 30.

Colonel Stephens officially communicated on the 27th the taking of Ovalle. The place was seized with the cry of "Viva S.E. el Presidente de la Republica." 28 prisoners and a large quantity of ammunition were taken. The leaders of the revolutionists fell.

It appears that the Government sent reinforcements to the North to assist in the taking of Coquimbo and Serena, which places have been evacuated by the revolutionists. The reason of the evacuation is that the revolutionists did not feel strong enough to oppose the overwhelming numbers of the Government troops and they did not, moreover, wish to risk the cause of the revolution so soon. By the evacuation the revolutionists gain a decided advantage, for the Government forces will lose much time in returning from Coquimbo, and will not be able to prevent their landing elsewhere. By some it is even asserted that, now that the main forces of the Government are in the extreme north, the fleet will land the revolutionary forces in Valparaiso and that these will march immediately on Santiago.

Deputy Bernardo Paredes was caught while endeavouring to land, and it is feared he will be sentenced to death.

Impartial accounts of the Ovalle engagement do not attach much importance to that encounter.

It is rumoured with persistency that Iquique has fallen into the hands of the revolutionists, which explains the recent decree prohibiting the export of nitrate.

General Urrutia has taken possession of the Isla Santa Maria, where he is organizing a few battalions.

Exchange in Chile is at 18 pence.

Santiago de Chile,
January 30th.

Government have received a despatch from the Intendant of Iquique, in which he states that the troops in Pisagua having rebelled, he attacked and defeated them at Zapiga Station. Colonel Canto, who led them, escaped to the fleet. Several pieces of artillery were taken. Zapiga Station is situated at a distance of a few leagues from Pisagua, to which the defeated rebels fled. The troops in Pisagua numbered 270 men. It appears that one of the lieutenants, who had a grudge against the commander, gave him a sleeping draught and then headed the soldiers in open rebellion, and handed over the port to the revolutionists.

The Esmeralda and O'Higgins have returned to Valparaiso and are riding at anchor off Laguna Ilata, while the Blanco Encalada entered the port flying a flag of truce. The commander of H.M.S. Champion held a secret interview with the commander of the Blanco Encalada.

The night before last the Blanco Encalada tried to blow up the Government ship Imperial with a torpedo. The torpedo, however, did not explode. It is on exhibition now in the streets of Valparaiso.

The fort known as the Andes fired on the fleet, and the Blanco Encalada was somewhat injured.

After two encounters, in which 20 people were killed, the Government forces retook Pisagua.

The Bishop of Serena has been released by the revolutionists.

The Huascar and Amazonas endeavored to land forces at Antofagasta but were obliged to withdraw.

Inca's Bridge
Jan. 30

Martin Prat, who was caught trying to suborn soldiers, has arrived here as a prisoner.

The revolutionists have seized Taltal, which is a rich mining town and district. They tried to land at Caldera but were compelled to retire.

The Commander of the Blanco Encalada gave the Commander of H.M.S. Champion two documents for the doyen of the Consular corps. The Intendant, however, refused to allow the documents to be forwarded, unless previously opened in his presence. This the doyen refused, and a diplomatic conflict is on the tapis.

Forty men, including Messrs. Domingo Malte, Edward and Bejamin Edwards, have been discovered and arrested by the authorities.

An attempt was made in the night to set fire to the Mint. The attempt failed.

It is rumored that a conspiracy has been discovered in the 5th of the line.

The Government is trying to negotiate a loan from Germany.

Montevideo Jan. 31

The Almirante Condell cleared yesterday for the Pacific, evidently to join the revolutionary fleet.

ITALIAN BANK REPORT.

The following is the annual report of the 'Banco de Italia y Rio de La Plata' presented at the general meeting of shareholders held Jan. 30th 1891:—

Gentlemen,

In conformity with article 24 of the statutes the Board presents you with the general balance corresponding to transactions effected in 1890.

The net profits shown by the balance-sheet, after setting aside a prudential amount for bad and doubtful debts, amounts to 536,676.39 gold dollars, which the bank proposes to distribute as follows in accordance with Art. 53 of the Statutes:—

4 o/o Founders.....	$ 21,027.26
7 „ Board of Directors...	36,797.70
5 „ Reserve Fund.....	26,284.00
84 „ to the shareholders, or say $11 on 30,000 shares.....	$330,000
2½ on 44,629 certificates 40 o/o	111,572
	441,572.50
(gold)	525,681.46

From this sum a deduction must be made of $243,950.04 gold distributed in month of August last as a provisional dividend in accordance with Art. 43 of the Statutes, being 6 dollars gold per share and 0.80 gold per certificate 25 o|o paid; and to pass 10,994 gold to new account.

If the Board has not been able to present you with a balance-sheet so favourable as formerly, you must not attribute this to any lack of zeal in the discharge of their duties, but rather to the abnormal state of the country in its present, financial, economic and political phases. The Board has thought proper not to depart from the sound principles by which it has always been guided, and even in the present emergency has continued, within the sphere of its resources, lending the public at large, and its numerous and growing clientele in particular, most important services not only at the head office but also in the branches.

We beg to assure you that in conformity with the prescriptions of the statutes the Bank has scrupulously avoided all operations savouring even of speculation maintaining always its rates of discount at the lowest possible figure.

When the National Government manifested its intention of appreciating the currency the Board of this bank, sympathising naturally with such a praiseworthy purpose, considered the moment arrived to request the elimination of our institution from the category of Banks of emission, as was in fact eventually done, having returned with this in view to the Caja de Conversion a million dollars in notes, which were destroyed, receiving in return the million Public Bonds gold 4½ o|o which had stood in the name of the bank.

Annexed to the general balance sheet will be found various tables explicative of the operations effected during the past year. The Board hopes that on examining them you will approve of the distribution proposed.

Mr. Leonardini having resigned in October last the post of manager of the Rosario branch, the Board named the Inspector of Branches, Mr. Jubino, to the post 'pro tem.'

In conformity with the dispositions of the New Code of Commerce the syndic has to be named, and according to Art. 35 of Statutes, four directors to fill the places of Messrs. S. Pollinini, T. Devoto, Dr. Parody and A. Devoto who have completed their term.

In concluding, the board beg to recommend the good services of their staff in general, both in the head office and in the branches, and especially the zeal and ability displayed by Mr. Onorio Stoppani in the discharge of his onerous duties as manager of the head office.

President,
Antonio Devoto,

Secretary,
J. Bandano,

GENERAL WENCESLAO PAUNERO.

The remains of this famous General, who died in Rio while in the high post of Argentine Minister Plenipotentiary, are to be landed shortly, special honors having been decreed for their reception. As General Paunero was "a hero in the strife" and filled with his exploits the early annals of the Argentine Republic, our readers will feel interested in the following short biographical sketch:—

The General was a simple, honest and well instructed man, and very much resembled in his manners and deportment the celebrated General Jose Maria Paz, whose bosom friend he was.

He was born in the Colonia del Sacramento, which at that time formed part of the vice-royalty of the Plate. He entered the Buenos Ayres University which was at that time directed by Dr. Aguero. On the completion of his studies, he, together with other equally enthusiastic young students, enrolled himself under the Independence Banner. He went through the Brazilian campaign and as captain took part in the celebrated battle of Ituzaingo. He distinguished himself greatly in that battle, in which he received a musket ball in the leg. He was promoted on the battle-field. He also distinguished himself in the following battles: Ombu, Ituzaingo, San Pedro, San Roque, Tablada, Montes de los Reyes, Corralito, Uncativo, Rio Segundo, Piedritas, Belen, Miraflores, Tonelero, Puente de Marquez, Caseros, Cepeda, Pavon, San Nicolas, Sol de Mayo, Cristiano Muerto, Pigue, Las Playas, Corrientes, 25 de Mayo, Yatsy, Tuyuti, Cora, Uruguayana, 2 de Mayo, 24 de Mayo, Curupaiti, Loros, Portezuelo, etc.

He became commander-in-chief on several memorable occasions and led the first army corps in the Paraguayan war. The rapidity of his movements, from the attack on Corrientes, in May, 1865, to the capitulation of Uruguayana, forms the most brilliant feature of that campaign.

The greater part of the Generals of the Argentine army to-day served under Gen. Paunero. He occupied the very highest posts. He was Senator and he became Minister of War. The admiration of other States made him General in several South American armies.

As Argentine Minister to Rio the last post he occupied—he was very highly esteemed and was made the object of special favor by the Emperor.

A man of the stamp and character of General Paunero would have risen to prominence in any country and under any circumstances, and in decreeing special honors to his remains the Argentine Republic tenders a just homage to the memory of one of her most illustrious sons.

LONDON LETTER.

THE NEW YEAR.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Jan. 2nd.

I did not intend to notice the new year. The newspapers seem shyer than usual about it, and for want of prophetic inspiration they are quarrelling with one another as to whether Mr. Gladstone, on entering his 82nd year, has had 81 birthdays or 82. Then the Daily Chronicle speaks of our entering the last decade of the century, when the P. M. G. is down upon it as an ass for not knowing that we did that on January 1st, 1890. The St. James' Gazette delighted to have a fling at its rival, says the Chronicle is right, and that the year 1900 is the last year of the century. St. James' is unquestionably right. The year 1900 is the first of the 20th century; and may you all live to see it and be prosperous. Why the new-year business attracted my attention was seeing a paragraph quoted from the Manchester Courrier which is very likely untrue, although it too well represents the existing aspect of affairs in the United Kingdom. It says that Mr Gladstone is about to issue a manifesto announcing his resignation of the leadership of the Liberal party. What with the division in the Home Rule ranks and the opposition of Liberals and Radicals to one another, the Grand Old Man thinks politics are in a state of chaos, and as he does not see any immediate means of escape, he retires from the leadership of his party, though not necessarily from public life. Were all this true it would be important indeed, for I cannot point to a single one of the party, not even Morley, who could secure a sufficiently large following to lead. No one would accept Harcourt. Lord Hartington would only attract the Liberal uppercrust and the half-witted, whilst Chamberlain has discovered skunk-like moral qualities that make him detested by all men whose political views extend beyond the vulgarest partisanship. The immediate gainers will of course be the Conservatives, who run the chance of another innings. The ultimate gainers will be the social democrats, who are the real movers of the earth, which is giving way under the feet of the old parties. Whilst the Chamberlains and Morleys, the Parnells and Healys are speechifying and fighting, the socialists are as quiet as mice, and Lord Salisbury goes placidly to his villa at Cannes, and Mr. Balfour is in Dublin noiselessly setting the Irish to work on light railways and practical schemes. But the time is coming when the Liberals and Conservatives will be one party, Nationalists, or Constitutionalists they may call themselves; but whatever name it may be, it has only one meaning—individualism, as opposed to the collective aspirations of the workers. Herbert Spencer is concocting a reply to the Fabian essays. The Times opens its columns to Mr. Commissioner Smith, late of the Salvation Army, and to the heads of the Charity Organisation and all who are in opposition to General Booth, in whose scheme Mr. Walter and Mr. Moberly Bell, the new manager, smell the smell of fire under the earth's crust.

* * * *

A horrid accident has occurred at Wortley, near Leeds. At a church school bazaar part of the evening entertainment was a snowflake dance for which little girls from nine to fourteen dress themselves in cotton wool and hold Chinese lanterns in their hands. Of course one of the lanterns upset, and a girl in trying to put it out set fire to her cotton wool costume. Another girl tried to put out the flames on her companion's dress and her own cotton wool caught fire. So it went on, till fifteen of them were in flames. Five are dead. The girls were dressing for the performance in a room set apart for them and were just about to appear. They were heard laughing and talking in great glee, when suddenly the screams came and some of them rushed out into the street. Canon Brameld, his curate and the attendants did all that was possible to save the girls, but, of those who were not killed, many were seriously burned. Those that died, died in agony.

* * *

New year's morning opened with a thaw, which did not last long, though there are again signs of the end of one of the longest and severest frosts in London since 1813.

* * * *

Amongst the enclosures you will find an interesting account given by Mr. Blowitz of Prince Bismarck's resignation and his crying appeal to the Empress Frederick and her reply. History comes out in due time. But what does it avail; when there are so many poor souls amongst us ready to lick the feet of any successful idol—a Bismarck or even a Lord Beaconsfield. In Froude's biography of Lord Beaconsfield we see that poor dear Sir Stafford Northcote, when he first knew him, used to call him familiarly and lovingly "Dozzy." When he knew him better he called him "Diz."

LADIES' LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Paris, Dec. 26.

In connexion with the tea, milk and chocolate rooms now being extensively established over Paris, a depot for umbrellas will be connected with each. In the case of a sudden change of weather, one will have only to enter the nearest tea-room, etc., select a Sally Gamp, more or less new, in silk, alpaca, or cotton; deposit the estimated value of the umbrella, which will at same time include the sum for hire—6 to 30 sous—for every 24 hours. A receipt will be given for the money deposit, and the latter will be refunded at any of the tea-rooms in the city.

Formerly a company existed for lending out umbrellas and parasols by the hour. It had a capital of 20,000—umbrellas. It failed, because the depots for hiring the umbrellas, etc., were the tobacco shops, into which ladies—the best customers, of course—declined to enter. The next error was, basing the society on new instead of second-hand and hack umbrellas. During rain no one ever scans your over-head protector unless it displays rents or sieve interstices. Only philosophers and individuals suffering in mind, body, or estate, disregard holes in umbrellas. Now, next to securing an umbrella when needed, nothing is more pleasurable than the getting rid it of when no longer required. To be able to part company with it at the nearest branch tea-room will prove the success key-note of the revived scheme.

When umbrellas were first introduced into France, towards the close of the seventeenth century, they were exclusively reserved for the use of ladies. A gentleman would have blushed if discovered carrying such a symbol of effeminacy. It was the parasol gave birth to the umbrella, and a parasol two centuries ago was as much a familiar heir-loom as lace and jewellery. It was embroidered by the owner, became a thing of beauty, and so a joy for ever. French ladies in the sixteenth century, who as spectatresses followed deer hunts, carried parasols fringed with gold and ornamented with costly pearls. Waiters at cafes and restaurants once supplied clients with umbrellas, counting in exchange upon a gratuity; but negligence in returning the umbrellas ruined the convenience.

For a short time in France, when private undertakers existed, it was, as it is at present, considered evidence of greater respect for the deceased to follow on foot, instead of riding in a carriage. The undertaker kept a supply of black umbrellas, familiarly called "mortuaries," that he presented to foot mourners did rain set in. A mute collected as many of the umbrellas as he could as the recipients passed through the cemetery gate. But the item for compensation for unreturned umbrellas in the undertaker's bill became so extravagant that funeral umbrellas had to be abandoned as uneconomical. It was a fact then that funerals on wet days were ever the best attended. Perhaps, if the fashion had existed when Mozart died, the composer's friends would not have failed to attend his funeral, despite the rain, and posterity would thus have known the whereabouts of the resting-place of the celebrity.

As "Antony and Cleopatra" is the order of the day drama, it may be apropos to state that, besides his reputation, a parasol that he presented to the siren queen was cherished as the most precious of his gifts to her. There is, in the Cluny Museum, an umbrella presented by the Portuguese to Louis XIV, which weighs 6 lbs. It had to be carried by a valet similarly as seigneurs had foot-boys to carry their turnip watches. Louis XV. had quite a collection of parasols, so that he might have been called, like his cousin the King of Burmah, "Lord of the Twenty-four Parasols."

There will be a novelty this season in Paris—a fashion for reading. It is to be hoped that the entertainment will be profitable. The difficulty is to select books suited to diversity of tastes, humors, ages and temperaments. A literary testing committee of ladies has been formed, that will recommend volumes which they have personally read. Perhaps a personal recommendation of a book may prove, if not superior to the best anonymous criticism, at least safer.

It would seem that the passion for bibelots and curios, is on the decline. It is only time, for drawing rooms were becoming merely monotonous museums, and tables, so numerous, so frail, and freighted with "Chinoiseries" and "Japoneries," that the visitor had to pick steps, apprehensive lest the fragilities might come down like houses of cards. Ornamental plants now dominate in drawing rooms, supplemented by illustrated books, and 'artistic' albums. The tendency is, to unite taste with simplicity. I notice that aquariums are less and less in favor, and are relegated to corridors, preparatory to being located in their natural homes—the fish—pond.

The French have not forgotten the kindness of the late King of Holland's first wife Queen Sophia, that he wed in 1839, a very superior lady, and whose letters warned Napoleon III. to be on his guard against an invasion from Germany, But that Monarch turned the adder's ear to her cautions. The late king was not domestically happy; he was not exactly a model husband, and which explains why he separated—they had no "affinities"—from his first wife, by whom he had two sons. The latter could not "get on" with their father. They resided chiefly in Paris, where the elder died, a rake, and the younger son, less wild because more delicate, soon followed his brother to the grave. At 62 years of age, the King married the Princess Emma, aged 19. She does not possess the intellectual capacity of Queen Sophia, but in that respect she was more suited to the king, and which will explain why she made his remaining years so blissful. His daughter, the Princess Wilhelmina, is aged ten, and, excepting the King of Spain, who is in his fifth year, is the youngest Sovereign in Europe. Next comes Alexander of Servia, who is aged fourteen. The youngest queen that ever reigned in this century was Isabella, the present ex Queen of Spain. She was only three years old when she succeeded to the throne.

Since a long time, a sullen, silent, Teazle-Sneerwell war has been going on between the ladies of the old nobility, whose patents after all are not so very ancient, and the wealthy heiresses of business men who have married into penniless aristocratic families. The old guard, both in Paris and in the provinces, have now revived the ancient custom of adding, after the lady's title, her maiden name, so that the memories of gossipers can thus be kept green as to "who's who." A more general social war rages between ladies of an uncertain age and their younger contemporaries. It is said that the institution of Five o'clock Teas was invented to please the former, so as to suit their features, by permitting the owners to appear in more subdued light. Hence, these ladies, that the cruel sisterhood call "chauve-souris"—bats—prefer visiting when the lamps are lit. Figaro observed that "at night all cats are grey;" artificial light then reduces rival blooms to equality.

Madame de Pompadour, when the "snowfall of time" was telling on her, only showed herself by candle light, and that as rarely as possible. Gastelet, the famous hairdresser, compounded a hair dye and a wash that enabled the courtesan to "face" any chandelier stocked with wax lights. He also manufactured a wig for the Duchesse d'Orleans that made her look as young as her own daughter. He "inspired" a coiffure for Marie Antoinette that he named the "Queen of Hearts," and as a recompense the court wits bestowed on him the title of "King of Heads." It is not a little amusing to notice at afternoon receptions the "struggle for life," between many ladies, for a favorable position, as regards the play of light. No artist "badly hung" at a picture exhibition can feel more unhappy than the lady shunted into the wrong seat during her brief visit in a salon.

The short spell of skating was as brief as love. Hardly four good days! The ice melted away, like all joys, just as the lovers of the sport were commencing to settle down to business and to programme amusements. There is no difference in skating between one season and another—save in point of duration. But on the present occasion the remarkable verdict was delivered that Mexicans and Brazilians carried off the palms for graceful and mathematical skating. What surprises the future reserves when Central Africa commences to send its native gentry to outskate Norwegians and Nova Scotians!

The good old fashion of a dejeuner and ball on the occasion of marriage is disappearing in France. There is a tendency also to replace wedding gifts by cheques, a capital reform; next change: limiting gifts to flowers. Madame Edmond de Rothschild confines her presents to a basket of orchids. After the families of a young couple in France diplomatically arrange a marriage, the "fiances" meet at a family dinner, when the father of the bride, or her oldest relative, toast at dessert the coming union. Then the young man presents his lady with a sapphire ring set in brilliants, and a bouquet.

Cloth and velvet are the reigning dress materials. But the velvet is no longer solemn and sedate looking; it has now as many delicate colors as tulle or China crape. Pending, perhaps, the fashion for brides to appear in white velvet, young ladies have ball toilettes in blue, maize, or rose velvet, as they formerly had ball robes in gauze and muslin. Ladies not over thirty years of age can trim velvet with colored silk embroidery, jet and even fur. Japan chrysanthemums will match sky-blues and irises a maize velvet. For visiting five o'clocks and church black velvet weighted with jet. Cloth dresses are equally laden with jet designs.

Evening dresses are in blue satin trimmed with moire satin bows, and white lace; in maize silk and white pepude soie, in black lace trimmed with chantilly, black feathers, yellow red roses. Dinner toilettes are in pale rose China crape embroidered with green spots, trimmings, green velvet ribbon. Also black peau de soi and embroidered black gauze. The princess is the shape in vogue, the V low body, sleaves short and slightly puffy.

Hats, like robes, sparkle with beads, jet flies and aigrettes. As a general rule the shapes of all hats are pretty, whether capotes, toques, Louis XI or the large bordered mascarille. Toques are in black velvet. Many hats are trimmed with cloth, or roll-draped with it. The cloth ought to match the dress. But flowers and ribbons are not dethroned. Capotes are in bright colored velvets ornamented with jet and black feathess.

Jackets and costumes are trimmed with astrakan, and the prevailing embroidery. Mantles are in velvet or cloth, with rich jetting. The long cassail is very general, and the three-caped carrick, bordered with astrakan, is the "mode" for girls.

Railway Items.

Messrs. John G. Moiggs Son and Co. have applied for an extension of time to complete the repairs of the Central Northern.

Messrs. T. Agostino and A. de Recha have been proposed by the N. R. Board for the posts of Manager and engineer respectively of the Dean Funes and Chilecito Railway.

The Argentine North-Eastern have applied to Government for the half yearly (July to December last) guarantee due on the Monte Caseros and Curuzu-Cuartia Section. The amount is 59,475 dols. gold

The sum of £84,996 16s. 1d. has been paid by the State to Messrs. Lucas Gonzalez and Company to cover the service of the Central Northern Extension Railway Loan for the half year ended June last.

The National Railway Board have written to Government urging the reimbursement of the forfeit money deposited by the contractors of the North Western, the first section of which, Villa Mercedes to La Toma, is already open to traffic.

The Bahia Blanca and North-Western opens to ordinary traffic to-day.

The Home-Minister made the following appointments yesterday for the Tucuman-Salta Jujuy Railway:—

Engineer for Permanent Way, Emilio Martegazza; Section Engineers, Francis Smith, Pedro Cornego and N. Caceres; Accountant, Felix Piquet; head station-master, Augusto Menlins; sub-accountant, Rodolfo Godoy; stationmaster at Salta, Tomas Oliver; workshops' superintendent, Juan Koenig; paymaster Clodomiro Garcia.

The local representatives of the bondholders of the Santa Fe Colonies Railways and also of the Cent. Entre-Riano Railway sent a note the day before yesterday to the Governments of the respective provinces, requesting that the returns of the Contribucion Directa Tax be held for their account (bondholders).

Under the terms of the respective bonds the holders have a charge on the Contribucion Directa as well as on the railways. This is the beginning of a pretty quarrel.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The first month of the year ended yesterday in the most milk-and-water fashion: no krach or pitched battle on 'Change as formerly; no rousing news from any quarter, but a general chopfallen, Catonian-tax-crushed feeling in all quarters.

Two holidays to be got through, and the weather yesterday did not look a bit too promising. The Hurlingham Races are the attraction for to-morrow; but we cannot conscientiously recommend any special diversion for to-day, except Frank Brown's Circus for the children in the afternoon.

The Admiral Brown, with General Paunero's remains, cannot be here for a day or two. She only left Rio yesterday evening.

The news from Montevideo is "no Cabinet yet and Porto very reserved about the loan". It's too bad of Porto: it really is. Hard (up) a port. Oh, in fact.

Another musical and light fantastic treat at the Tigre Hotel to-night, the popular Furlotti in the chair. "On with the dance; let joy be unconfined."

An 18 dollars return ticket to Montevideo can be had to day by the fine steamer Rivadavia, which sails this evening.

The finest views of Buenos Ayres we have yet seen are to be had at the new Aladdin English book store, 132 San Martin. They are really worth a visit and should be sent to loving relatives at home, to show them that this is not the kind of place where paint, a sword, and a cocked hat are the only dress patronised, as the good people are so fond of thinking.

Irun makes his "rentree" at the Fronton Buenos Ayres to-day, and an enormous crowd and furious betting are expected.

We thank "A Thirster after Knowledge" for his cutting; but we published it several days ago, and the whole thing is moonshine.

The winning number this month in Mr. Brown's charitable "suit of clothes" Lottery was—See Advertisement. One hundred and eighteen tickets were sold, a very handsome contribution to the British Hospital.

There was another patriotic "susto" at La Plata on Friday night about revolutionary movements in several parts of the province of Buenos Ayres. Smoke, as usual.

Another specimen of the happy-go-lucky way in which legislation is carried on in this fair land is the contemplated suppression of the post of Minister of Public Works in La Plata, which was created only a few years ago. As the P. W. business is likely to be rather slack for years to come, the suppression of the portfolio must be considered a wise step.

The prediction that the absurd Stanley craze would soon fizzle is in process of fulfilment. The British public are now clean sick of Africa and explorers in general Public taste is rapidly veering from the tropics to the Poles—not Kociusko's countrymen, for whom Freedom has now not even a squeak, much less the shriek she gave when that illustrious patriot fell—but the ends of the earth's axle. A London paper says:—"Readers are ever whimsical and inconstant. Two or three weeks ago the "boom" on Stanley books seemed destined to last throughout the winter. Even astute librarians thought so. But their interest has been ephemeral in the public mind. The subject will not readily be forgotten, but the fashion and passion for reading it up seems to have fled. The best book of travels published this winter is without the slightest doubt Dr. Nansen's account of "The First Crossing of Greenland" (Longmans & Co.), which is truly an heroic story. Another work which, as the critics say, "should be in every gentleman's library," is Mr. Wemyss Reid's "Life, Letters and Friendships of Rich

Compania Primitiba
DE
Gas de Buenos Aires.

Rebaja de Precios.

En virtud de las reformas realizadas en la fabrica de esta compañia, que le permiten elaborar una cantidad mucho mayor de gas de la que antes producio, el directorio ha resuelto hasta nuevo aviso fijar el precio del gas del modo siguiente que regira desde el 1° de Febrero proximo.

Por metro cubico $0-225.

Por impuesto municipal $0-004—Son 0 23 pesos el metro cubico.

Para consumidores de cierta importancia haremos un descuento en relacion al consumo.

No duda el directorio que dada la calidad del gas que fabrica esta compañia, cuya intensidad de luz es siempre superior al tipo oficial de 20 velas, el publico se penetrara de la gran ventaja que tiene en usarlo.

Si hasta ahora hemos cobrado el precio de 25 centavos por metro cubico, es porque nuestros elementos de produccion no nos permitian dar abasto a todos los pedidos; hoy, a pesar de las malas circunstancias por el alto precio del oro, lo expenderemos a 23 centavos incluso en este precio el impuesto municipal, contando con que el aumento de consumo nos compensara la rebaja que hacemos en favor de nuestros numerosos clientes

THE DIPPING SEASON.

Under the above heading, the following appears in a recent exchange:—

"Speaking of Dips themselves, perhaps the most significant feature in their History is the way that the Old-fashioned have been superseded by the more "Modern and Scientific preparations. As Tobacco gave place to the various "Fluids" "and these again to the "Powders" so we find to-day these latter retiring before the "new Paste Dips. Of the many recent experiments we have witnessed in England and "the Colonies, the most successful were with an Arsenical Paste, manufactured by "Tomlinson and Hayward, of Lincoln, a firm that has always been noted for keeping "abreast of the times."

"The advantages of the Paste over the "Powders" are many:—

"It does not make the wool dry and harsh, but leaves it soft and silky, giving a "healthy sweet smell to the sheep. Being, so to speak, already mixed, it is easier to "prepare there, being no waste nor loose "Powders," to fly about.

"As it is prepared with Carbolic it is lighter than the "Powders" and does not "so readily settle to the bottom, and for the same reason it is not injurious to the "hands. It goes in less space and is a more concentrated form than the "Powders." "thus effecting an economy in transport and labour. It costs less, and will mix with "any kind of water. In a word, it is the "Powders," cleared of their many inherent "defects, with their curative properties and good qualities preserved and increased, "Until the manufacturers make some better discovery

Exchange Rates—
England	14d 15/16d.

Gold equivalent	317.00

Saturday, January 31st.

Business was tremendously dull on 'Change to-day, so dull, indeed, that the ring and hall might have represented a scene from the Deserted Village, so sparse was the attendance and so listless the general tendency. It was pretty shrewdly conjectured that there was no liquidation to be got through. The market had liquidated itself, since business now is done mainly from day to day, and not, as formerly, on time; consequently there were none of the liquidation "corners" nor failures formerly inseparable from the end of the month. Gold kept quiet all day at 324, and in exchange little or nothing was done, rates being quoted at 48½d and 5.08-09f. Cedulas remained stationary, but with rather a weak-kneed tendency, whilst Catalinas and Constructors just managed to maintain their rates. National Bank shares astonished everyone by weakening perceptibly, touching 98 at one moment; and although they closed at 100 the market is still weak, which was attributed to a rumour afloat that the next balance-sheet published will shew a sensible increase in the 'morose' debtors' account. This is only a rumour, however, and many thought the fall in the shares ta-day was due to a bearish push.

The following is a summary of operations effected this afternoon during the first ring:—

The sale of 25 shares of the Banco de Italia at 135 m/n gold was reported. The report of the directors of this bank for the past year will be found in another column. Telegrams received from England announce the departure of Mr. Anderson for the Plate on Wednesday last in the Royal Mail s.s. Moselle.

The Pacific steamer Liguria is expected in Montevideo on Monday. She comes up to this port and will clear same day for the Pacific. Mr. M. G. Mulhall, senior editor of this paper, comes in her

Mr. Dynes, of the firm of J. and J. Drysdale, who has arrived out from England, was welcomed on 'Change. For many years he was the representative of the house in New York, and afterwards in London.

Mr. Gilbert Hammill, who now represents here the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, was welcomed on 'Change.

Respecting the Cedula question there is much said, but the opinion is general that the plan proposed by Minister Rosas is the only feasible one: namely, to pay out as it receives, and for the deficit emit "bonos;" but these "bonos," to have a market value, must be received by the bank in payment. They say that the amount of Cedulas due by the Provincial Government to the Mortgage Bank is 75 millions, and that the affairs of the bank will admit of no other solution than that proposed by Minister Rosas.

Discount brokers report money getting dearer and tighter in the market. This, of course, is the result of the new Bank Deposit Tax.

We hear that at the private banks four new accounts daily will be opened, to meet the requirements of the new tax law.

Under the heading "Draconian Laws," our colleague, La Epoca, publishes the following pertinent remarks—"The Government promulgates to-day the laws sanctioned by Congress, increasing the taxes. The regulations of these new laws appeared yesterday, and the terms of the same are as unflinching as the general terms of the new laws. It is a war-to the-knife between the tax-payer and the Government, between private capital and the Minister of Finance, between the and the Executive which intrudes itself upon private interests. The Government must anxiously await the results. We shall now see if the inordinate taxes will replenish the vaults of the Treasury, if deposits abandon the private banks to take refuge in the State banks; finally, if this surgical treatment of finances will relieve the patient exhausted with a gold fever at 222 o/o premium."

The Epoca also reports the rumor that heavy amounts of deposits have been withdrawn in these days from one of the State Banks. Cato's laws are evidently bearing negative results.

The Draconian or Catonian laws come into force to-day. The best thing the Minister could do now is to follow the example of Lycurgus and vanish from the scene. With all these f

The following was the movement of Bolsa members during year past:

As will be seen by the advertisement of the Carabassa Bank, the rate of interest in account current has been reduced to 1 o/o and on deposits at 30 days from 2½ to 2 o/o, the rates for deposits at longer dates remaining the same. No interest whatever will be paid on gold deposits, and for overdrafts, either in paper or gold, 12 o/o will be charged.

The Government engineer commissioned to inspect the Colonia Florencia in the Chaco Austral, with a view to determining whether Mr. E. Langworthy, the concessionaire, has or has not complied with the terms of the contract, reports: That the railway from the colony to the Parana is in such a desperate state from faulty construction and neglect that it is almost useless for traffic, and to be put on a proper footing would require reconstruction and total renewal of the rolling-stock; that the public buildings, such as schools, municipality, church, etc., have been erected at a cost of $108,000 when the amount stipulated was to be £40,000 stg., and that of the 250 families specified in the articles only 40 to 50 exist, cultivating a bare 2,000 hectares of the 32 leagues of which the colony is composed. As the term for completing the contract (four years) has expired, the inspector advises the Government to rescind the concession and declare the deposit forfeited.

The sale is reported of the splendid site at the corner of Piedad and Reconquista, the property of the Buenos Aires Insurance Co., to the London & Brazilian Bank at 750 m/n per square yard. We believe only a part, some 722 square yards, of the site has been sold, the company being in negotiation for the sale of the remainder. The London and Brazilian Bank will erect their offices on the property and join the number at Banking Corner.

The Administrator of "Contribucion Directa" has intervened in the following sales:—

Calle Mejico No. 2401, 9x60 for 10,000 m/n.

Calle Catamarca No. 267, 8x13 for 7000 m/n.

Calle Piedad No. 2613, 7x32 for 12,900 m/n.

Calle Salta No. 3402, 22x33 for 17,600 m/n.

Also various lots of ground sold for 203,663 m/n.

The agents of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company announce that the s.s. Potosi, after having been delayed at Valparaiso owing to the revolution on the West Coast, is expected to arrive at Montevideo on Feb. 6th and to sail for Liverpool the same day.

Messrs. Funes and Lagos sold at their weekly auctions on Wednesday and Friday the following horses: Russian stallion for 1100 m/n to Varela Castex; racehorse for 600 to Lavagne; another for 500 to Espinosa; Percheron for 700 to Cheruaqui: two mestizo horses for 600 to Theling; one Chilian horse for 270. They also sold a number of American carriages, etc., the amount realised at the auctions being 35,700 dollars.

The movement in the Central Produce Market yesterday (Jan. 30th) was as follows:

Arrivals: 72 wagons containing 139,325 kilos wool, 3813 do sheepskins, 5634 do cowhides, 168 do horsehides, 200 do hair, 44,900 do wheat.

Arrivals per launches—47,401 kilos of wool, 120 do sheepskins, 110 do hides, 36,699 do wheat, 25,000 do flour.

We cut the following from Money of Jan. 3rd—

"The first step that the Argentine Government has now to take is to place its paper currency on a surer basis. We do not suppose for one moment that the paper dollar will appreciate to its face value in three years—the depreciation has gone too far for that—but a great change for the better may be accomplished in that time. The mass of paper currency to be dealt with is enormous, some two hundred and fifty million dollars, plus three hundred and fifty million dollars of Cedulas, payable in this currency. As the contraction of inconvertible paper brings it nearer its face value, the burden of the Cedulas increases, hence the very natural desire of Argentine statesmen to effect a conversion while the gold premium is at its maximum. The Argentine Government is pledged under the Rothschild agreement to cancel fifteen million dollars annually. This in itself is a considerable gain, but its greatest value lies in the fact that it definitely closes the era of inflation, and turns over a leaf in the management of the national finance. When it is clearly understood that the printing press will not be again called in to flood the country with paper, but that an appreciable quantity of former issues will be called in and destroyed annually, confidence will be revived, and the necessity for hoarding gold and paper will no longer exist. The specific modification in the terms of the loan that the Argentine Government asks for is to be permitted in certain cases to give guarantees for provincial liabilities. We apprehend that this provision is only to apply to such of the provinces as for the future renounce their right to contract loans abroad. As some of the provinces have resisted the intervention of the National Government in their financial concerns, as a violation of their autonomy, it may very well happen that the effect of the modification sought for may be insignificant. The recision of the contract for the Buenos Aires Water Supply and Drainage Works is satisfactory to Barings' guarantors and to the general public, as it long blocked the way to the acceptance of any practical scheme for bringing order out of the existing chaos in Argentine finance."

The Board of Public Works have agreed to the following modifications in the port works; an increase of twenty metres in the proposed breadth of the Northern Sluice by a reduction of six metres in the breadth of the passage between Docks 3 and 4; placing of the Southern Sluice three and a half metres nearer the North Basin. These alterations have been made advisable in view of the running of a new class of steamer to the Plate, of which class the Stuttgart, described in our columns some time ago, is a type.

The following table gives the official immigration returns of the Banda Oriental for six years:—

Year	Arrivals	Official immigrants

Messrs, Agar Cross & Co.

Dear Sirs,

I have great pleasure in reporting favourably of your "Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine." Up to date we have shorn upwards of 300 Lincoln Rams and Borregas, and find it quite up to our expectations. It is simple and easily handled, and in no way complicated or difficult to understand or work, and so far it has never been out of order. It shears the sheep beautifully: it does them quicker and considerably better than it is possible to get them done by hand, and saves the poor animal a great amount of abuse.

I have timed our Amateur Shearer here, and find he can shear upwards of eight in the hour. Consequently, I consider the Wolseley Machine one of the best patents I have yet seen, in proof of which I intend having some more put up at an early date.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM RIDDICK.
